The Los Angeles party was especially large, among them being many well-known men from the southern part of the State. After the preliminary there occurred a wait, during which the crowd called to each other across the ring and shouted for the big men to come on. It was reported that Eddie Graney, who had been selected as referee, wished to be paid $500 for his services, while the managers thought $200 sufficient remuneration. Kid McFadden, the little fighter, who just returned from England, took advantage of the wait to get himself introduced as the champion feather weight. The kid's reception, however, was very chilly, and he made his exit quickly. ater. At the conclusion of the ten rounds those in the big crowd who were impartial and who had watched the fighting of both men, believed that the referee should have declared it a draw. Even Forbes acknowledged after the fight that he had only a shade the best of it and would not have been surprised had a draw decision been given. Referee Marx claimed that Forbes did most of the leading and landing and for that reason gave him the decision. Forbes and Rotchford put up a very fast ten-round contest. The first round was rather slow, but the men began hostilities in the second round, and from that until the conclusion of the fight it was give and take nearly all the way through with first one and then the other having a slight advantage. Forbes started in like a whirlwind, while Rotchford was a little slow in the early rounds. As the fight progressed, however, Rotchford warmed up and went in for keeps. Under the rules the men were allowed to hit with one arm free the ring gave sufficient light for the fight- | and many jabs were planted on the head ers as well as the audience. After the fourth round the affair became interesting and in the succeeding rounds there were several times when both men showed distress. During the iast three rounds Rotchford and Forbes fought hard, but were unable to terminate the contest before the end of the tenth The decision did not meet with general favor, as the majority of the large crowd present thought that the affair should have ended in a draw.

There were three rattling preliminaries, the principal one of which was between Kid Brune and the "Canadian Kid." Kid Brune has been a favorite in Indianapolis for some time and he met his equal last night in the "Canadian Kid." After four fast rounds Referee Ryan, who officiated in all the preliminaries, declared the bout a draw. Kid Shay was forced to quit before the end of the four-round contest with L. Clark. He got a stiff punch in the jaw and slipped to the floor. Clark was given

Sam Young and a young fellow named West were to go four rounds, but after mixing it up for two rounds Young demonstrated his superiority and was given the decision. The carnival as a whole was one of the best ever given in Indianapolis, and the crowd was well pleased. Most of the people remained to hear the returns of the Jeffries-Fitzsimmons fight. It was announced before the main contest last night that Eddie Santry, who was given the decision over young Mowatt at the Empire on July 5, has been matched with Ole Olsen for a ten-round contest to take place at the Empire Theater the night of Aug. 11.

GEN. CHAFFEE'S RECALL

A Surmise that He Is Intended to Succeed General Miles. Army and Navy Register.

Nothing more surprising has occurred in a long time than the orders of the present week recalling General Chaffee from Maernor's island and designating Gen. George W. Davis as the successor of General Chaffee at the head of the division of the Philippines. The change was made after consulting General Chaffee by cable. Until early this week it was evidently the intention of the authorities to place General MacArthur in command of the Department of the East. It has been stated semi-officially that the abandonment of this plan is due to the desire of the President to give General Chaffee his choice of command. No unusual reasons may have led to the important changes, but there is enough in the incident to have aroused a good deal of gossip and to have created the impression that there must be imbedded in the incident somewhere an "inside" history, an impression which no amount of official denial will fully dispel. General Chaffee has rendered a great deal of important service in the Philippines and is entitled to the reward which his assignment to Governor's island may be considered as being. There is a notion that his appearance on the Atlantic coast has something to do with the desire of his friends to have him listed as a candidate for the command of Sensational Finish. ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 25.-The handicap at a mile and a sixteenth, the feature of to-day's Delmar card, was productive of one of the most sensational finishes ever seen on a local race track. After Joe Doughty had raced Prosper La Gai into submission away out in front of the field. the old son of Ragnarck led into the stretch where he was joined at the sixteenth pole by Kitty Clyde, Glenwood and Alice Turner. A blanket would have covered the four as they raced to the goal, all driving to the limit. Amid intense excitement on the part of the spectators, they crossed the line noses apart, the judges awarding the decision to Kitty Clyde, Joe Doughty getting second and Alice Turner third. Three favorites, two second choices and one long shot won. Winners in order: Latuka, 9 to 2; Verify, 4 to 1; Harry Griffith, 12 to 1; Kitty Clyde, 9 to 2; Mabel Horses for $40,000.

CLEVELAND, O., July 25 .- The winner of each of the four races on the card at Gienville to-day came from the stable of Hudosn & Gatcom, Lexington, Ky. It was Hudson who did the driving, and in winning everything in sight set the world's Batteries-Wiltse and Yeager; Griffith, record for performances of the sort. Only one of the winners was a first choice and the big betting men lost very heavily. The owners of the winning string went into the betting ring and it is reported that they took out $40,000 when the show was over. F. F. Smathers, of New York, backed Shadow Chimes in the 2:06 pace and the defeat of the horse is said to have cost him $15,000. Nick Hubinger selected the Hudson horses.

The winning started in the fast pace, when Audubon Boy outraced Shadow Chimes in the final heat. Breaks in the previous trips were costly to both the contenders: Shadow Chimes was always a 2 to 1 favorite in opening betting. The drive in the first heat was a wild one and McDonald was

The 2:16 trot was split up and Hudson began driving in the heat under orders from the judges. Alice Russell started to win in the fourth and outlasted the tired field, Hudson's lay-up in the first two heats cost him $200. Silver Sign, the even-money favorite, never acted dangerously. The real surprise was sprung in the last race, in which Hudson appeared with Twinkle, nearly always a 40-to-1 choice. Heavy favorite Roamer took the first heat and had the second well in hand at the last eighth. Then, like a flash, Twinkle came from the bunch, winning in very fast time. The next two heats were won by the mare brushing it out in the stretch. Hudson was given a tremendous ovation by morrow. Summaries:
